

Ms. Rosemary Noon is retired and lives with her husband, Paul Marion, in Amesbury. She was the Assistant Director of the Lowell Plan, Inc., Director Communications and Cultural Affairs at Regis College, and first Director of the Lowell Office of Cultural Affairs.

She graduated from Regis College, Weston; received a master's degree in art history from UMass, Amherst; and was a recipient of the Loeb Fellowship from the Graduate School of Design at Harvard University.

She served as a Trustee of the Pollard Memorial Library and as a board member of the Massachusetts Cultural Council. She is a current trustee of the Lowell Cemetery. Her favorite fictional detectives are DCI Adam Dalgleish and Chief Inspector Armand Gamache.